Sources and Collections:

Information Express draws from four source categories:

- Our HOLDINGS LIST includes core titles in business, science, technology and medicine. All items on this list are sent out in one day.
- CALIFORNIA SOURCES include the Stanford University libraries and the University of California library system. Up to 80% of articles located at these sources are sent out within 24 hours. 90% are sent out within 48 hours.
- SPECIAL SOURCES include the Linda Hall Library and the National Library of Medicine.
- OUTSIDE SOURCES include corporate and international libraries, authors, publishers, associations and other vendors.

Rush Service:

Rush service is available from all of our sources and provides 2-48 hour delivery or notification of status.

Book Loans:

Book loans are available from our California and other academic sources. Charges include loan rate and any additional charges incurred from the lending library. Book loans are available only to qualified libraries. When the lending library permits, Information Express will renew books for its clients. Renewal terms vary from library to library.

Clean Copy Service:

A Clean Copy service is available for documents that are required for FDA submission.

Tracking:

Each request received at Information Express is labeled with a unique barcode, consisting of a three-digit client code and a transaction number. With every change of location or status, requests are scanned into our database so we can quickly inform you of the exact progress of your orders should you have any questions. To preserve confidentiality, client names are not used on requests.

Shipping:

We offer several different shipping methods for filled orders: e-mail, fax, First Class mail, FedEx and UPS. There is no shipping charge for orders that are delivered via e-mail or fax. We can also ship using your FedEx account.

Status Reports:

Individual and institutional online status reports are updated three times a day on the IE website. Institutional status reports are available only to designated administrators who can also have customized status alerts sent to them via e-mail. Status alerts about individual outstanding orders that are unfilled after a certain amount of time can also be sent out to end users and/or administrators.

Billing:

Information Express provides a variety of customized billing formats designed to suit your individual tracking and accounting requirements. Examples of formats include: sorting by requester name or requester number, sorting and subtotaling by requester name or packing slip number, and sorting by journal title. Other formats are available.
